Herman E. Hill, who has spent his vacation at his Ellsworth home, returned to Boston Sunday night. Mrs. Hill will remain a while longer.

Charles H. Knox and wife, of Chester, Mass., are guests of Mrs. Knox's mother, Mrs. Calvin P. Joy. This is their first visit here for three years.

Ralph S. Gardner and his bride, who have been the guests of Harry L. Crabtree and wife for a week, have returned to their future home in Lewiston.

M. H. Gogins and wife, of Concord Junction, Mass., are visiting Mr. Gogins' mother, Mrs. E. N. Burke. They made the trip in their automobile.

Christian M. Anton, of the yacht Privateer, made a short visit to Ellsworth Tuesday, the guest of H. W. Dunn and wife. He leaves to-day to join the yacht at Bar Harbor.

By a reassignment of justices for the remainder of the year, Judge Haley will preside at the October term of court in Hancock county, instead of Judge Peabody, as previously assigned.

The regular morning service at the Methodist church Sunday morning will be appropriate to the home-coming time. Dr. Kizer's subject will be "Fragrances of Memory". There will be special music.

Carlton S. Donnell has bought the barber shop of John W. Coughlin, and took possession Monday. Mr. Coughlin will remain with him two weeks. Mr. Donnell has been with Joseph W. Neally for fourteen years.

The S. L. C's will be entertained by Mrs. Reuben Trewoy to-morrow evening. The principal feature will be the drawing contest for which the members of the club are warned not to forget to bring a few extra pennies.

Capt. John O. Kief has purchased the schooner David Faust, and is caulking and painting her, preparatory to going coasting. In the gale Friday night the schooner which was on the beach at Indian point, swung out across the channel where she was held by her anchor and grounded on the falling tide. She was not damaged.

The gale Friday night did considerable damage to shade and fruit trees in this vicinity. Two large elms on Hancock street were blown down, and large branches of trees blocked several other streets. Telephone and electric light wires were broken in many places by falling trees or limbs. Apple trees in exposed places were stripped of half their fruit.

Adelbert B. Jordan and wife, with their grandson Darrell, are visiting Mr. Jordan's parents, Isaac Jordan and wife, at Beechland. Mr. and Mrs. Jordan are also entertaining their granddaughters, Miss Goodwin, of Chester, Mass., and Mrs. Belle Mae Morgan, of West Springfield, Mass., and their great-grandson, Dwight Fuller Knox, of Naugatuck, Conn.

The executive committee of the Ellsworth high school alumni association has voted to change the hour of the banquet from 7:30 to 9:30, at the annual meeting of the association on Saturday Aug. 12. Dancing and cards and a short musical program will precede the banquet. The change is made to accommodate many members who cannot be present earlier.

Francis Allen met with a serious and most peculiar accident last Wednesday, while at work haying at Beechland. He mowed into a wasp's nest and laid down the scythe to keep the insects from his face and eyes. Forgetting about the scythe, he started to run and stepped on the handle. The scythe turned up and caught him in the leg just below the groin, making a serious wound. Dr. Hodgkins was summoned. The boy was brought to his home on Franklin street as soon as possible, and is doing as well as can be expected.

Isaac Jordan and wife, of Beechland, assisted by their daughter, Mrs. Mary Jordan Leighton, entertained a large house party over Sunday. The guests included their son, Adelbert B. Jordan, and wife, their grandsons, Arthur and Victor Jordan, with their wives, their two granddaughters, Miss Georgia A. Goodwin, Mrs. Edward A. Morgan and Mrs. Helen Goodwin Bacon, their great-grandsons, Darrell B. Jordan and Dwight Fuller Knox. The grandsons, with their wives, arrived in an automobile from Hartland early Sunday morning.

All members of the festival chorus are earnestly requested to be present at Masonic hall this evening at 8 o'clock, to rehearse the music to be sung at the services on Old Home week. They should bring with them the miscellaneous work of 1910, and also the miscellaneous work of 1911. Also all those who are willing to assist the chorus are cordially invited, for it is desired to have as large a chorus as possible. The music is not difficult; most of it is familiar. The following selections will probably be sung: Hallelujah chorus; Inflammatus, Glorious is Thy Name, Hymn of Thanksgiving, Yellow, Yellow Buttercups, Oh, Hush Thee, My Baby; one familiar hymn—Duke Street.

The many friends of John C. McFaul, who for some time has been the manager of the Ellsworth, Bar Harbor and Machias telephone exchanges, will regret to learn that he is to leave here. He has been appointed general manager of the Eastern Telephone & Telegraph Co., a new corporation which has taken over the property of the New England in Washington county, with headquarters at Calais. His successor is A. L. Oakes, of Newport, formerly of the Bangor exchange, a man of wide telephone experience. Mr. Oakes will have charge of the Ellsworth and Bar Harbor exchanges and their tributaries, with headquarters at Bar Harbor. The change is in effect Aug. 1.

Fatal Wreck on B. & A. Railroad.
An excursion train on the Bangor & Aroostook railroad, returning north loaded with excursionists from northern Aroostook who had spent a day at Seaside, met the regular south-bound passenger train in a head-on collision near Grindstone at 9 o'clock Friday night.

Eight were killed outright and a score of others seriously injured, one of whom has since died. The dead are:
F. W. Garcelon, engineer of the excursion train.
Dr. Hugh Pipes, dentist, Presque Isle.

Frank Seeley, son of the cashier of the Presque Isle national bank.

Harry Clark, Presque Isle.

Claude Loomer, Washburn.

Zerne Harris, Presque Isle.

Fireman Gallagher of excursion train.

Fireman Wentworth of regular train, of Brewer.

George Estabrook, brakeman on excursion train, died at Bangor hospital Sunday.

Responsibility for the accident has not been fixed, and pending investigation, the railroad company will give out no statement.

State Assessors Meeting.
The State board of assessors will be in session at the county court house in Ellsworth Friday, Aug. 18, at 9 a. m., and at Bar Harbor, Saturday, Aug. 19, at 9 a. m., to meet town assessors and secure information to enable them to make a just equalization of taxes in Hancock county.

Morrison Family Reunion.
The tenth annual reunion of the Morrison family will be held at the home of Alexander G. Morrison, Mariaville, formerly the Charles Otis place, Saturday, Aug. 19. All connections of the family are cordially invited to be present. A picnic dinner will be served in the grove.

OLD HOME WEEK.

ELLSWORTH READY WITH A HEARTY WELCOME.

MANY FORMER RESIDENTS WILL BE
HERE—A FULL WEEK'S PROGRAM OF INTERESTING EVENTS.

AN INVITATION.
When the mercury's a-climbing with a persevering vim,
And the perspiration's dripping from your broad hat's shady brim,
You would better leave your business and for comfort fondly seek:
You would better come to Ellsworth

For
Old Home Week.

The people all are cordial, and you know your welcome's sure;
You'll find the latchstring hanging out in everyone's front door;
You'll see all the folks from round about; the friends of old you'll meet.
Oh you'd better come to Ellsworth

For
Old Home Week.

For you know the years are flying and the time will soon be near
When the cherished friends of childhood will no longer greet you here.
So before you've time to change your mind come, Peter, John and Zeke;
You all must come to Ellsworth

For
Old Home Week.

H. B. B.

Ellsworth is ready with open arms to welcome home its boys and girls of former years for the Old Home week which opens next Sunday. She promises them all a good time, and a good time as well for her neighbors from Hancock county and vicinity, for while the week's program is arranged primarily for old-home visitors, there are many carnival and merry-making features which will appeal to pleasure-seekers from the country round.

Ellsworth will be decked in her gayest attire. Main street is already a blaze of bunting and flags, expert decorators having been busy since Friday decorating the business blocks.

Work on the public street decorations was commenced yesterday. The Main street bridge will be surmounted by a flag-pole, from which lights and pennants will run to the four corners of the bridge. The bridge will be draped with bunting. Across Main street, between the bridge and Hancock hall, will be strung eighteen strings of fourteen electric lights each alternately with flags. Above Hancock hall there will be flags at intervals to the railroad.

The interior of Hancock hall will be elaborately decorated. The balcony will be faced with evergreen and pine, and draped with American flags. Strings of Japanese lanterns will extend from the centre chandelier to the four corners of the hall and around the hall above the balcony. The stage will be decorated with flags and bunting.

There will be no lack of music during the week. The Old Home week orchestra, of twelve pieces, led by C. E. Monaghan, will be in attendance throughout the week, playing for receptions, lawn parties and dances.

The famous cornet band of Milltown, N. B., will arrive on the late train Tuesday night, and furnish music for the rest of the week, returning home Saturday afternoon.

There will be special singing by the Ellsworth festival chorus at the Sunday services and at the Tuesday afternoon exercises. An elaborate musical concert is arranged for Saturday.

FREE ATTRACTIONS.
There will be many attractions in addition to the Old Home week events. There

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR

Prayer Meeting Topic for the Week
Beginning Aug. 6, 1911.

Topic—Lessons from great lives.—VIII. Job.—Job vi. 1-11; xiii. 1-4 (Consecration meeting). Edited by Rev. Sherran H. Doyle, D. D.

The book of Job has been called a philosophical discussion of the problem of human suffering. The discussion revolves around the life of a real historic character, but undoubtedly the purpose is didactic and not simply the recording of historical facts. It is clearly intended to deal with moral and religious problems and their solution—the problems of prosperity and adversity, the suffering of the righteous, the extent of God's interest in man, the possibility of a future life, the ability of man to know God—great and interesting problems and wisely discussed, and yet after all it is said and done the conclusion as summed up in the words of Elihu seems to be that it is impossible for man "by searching to find out God." God's ways are not our ways. He "moves in a mysterious way, His wonders to perform," and we must trust Him regardless of the fact that we cannot always understand the purposes of His dealings with us.

The life of Job, however, still teaches many comforting and helpful lessons. Let us note the following:

1. The faithfulness of Job under testing. The first question discussed is that of the possibility of disinterested goodness. Satan raises the question when he asks, "Does Job serve God for naught?" To prove that a man may love Him and delight in His service God puts Job to severe tests. He is tried and tested in every possible way. He suffers great misfortunes, deep bereavements, personal affliction, his wife mocks him, his friends misunderstand him. Yet he remains faithful to God. Job stood the test and thus demonstrated the possibility of disinterested righteousness. Such righteousness is the more possible today through the possession of the Spirit and the example of Christ, who was "tried in all points as we are, yet without sin." Through love to God we should serve Him regardless of the fact that it may seem to cost us sacrifice and suffering. If tested let us, like Job, still remain faithful and true to God. "Though He slay me, yet will I trust Him."

2. The purpose of God in the suffering of the righteous. Why do the righteous suffer? Why did Job suffer? His friends declared that his sufferings were proof of the fact that he was not righteous. They took the usual position of the ancient Jews that temporal prosperity is an evidence of righteousness, while temporal adversity is a sure proof of unrighteousness. But Job knew that this was not true, that he was not afflicted because of his sins, yet he is almost driven to despair and comes near to the point of questioning the justice of God, as countless others have done under similar circumstances. The final answer given is that "God sends calamities on good men by way of chastisement, not of punishment; in love, not in anger; to purify and strengthen them, to purge out faults, to save from the pit." This is undoubtedly the teaching of the book of Job upon this question, and it accords with that of the entire word of God upon the same subject, and through his afflictions Job is made to see that it is not because of personal righteousness, but through the mercy of God, that the greatest blessings are to be obtained and the truest fellowship with God enjoyed.

It was through repentance and complete submission to the will of God that he came into his greatest prosperity. When he humbled himself, "abhorred himself" and "repented in sackcloth and ashes" God exalted him. God's purposes toward His children are always good. "Whom the Lord loveth, He chasteneth"—"chasteneth," not punishes. True, we cannot always understand. Why should we try? Can the child understand the purposes of its parent in discipline? But can it doubt that they are good? Let us trust Him and not seek to understand Him. Judge not the Lord by feeble senses. But trust Him for His grace. Behind a frowning providence He hides a smiling face.

3. The problem of the future life. This question is raised in connection with the life of Job. "If a man die, shall he live again?" is asked, and in one passage at least Job answers clearly, definitely and with evident assurance, "I know that my Redeemer liveth" and after my skin has been destroyed in my flesh shall I see God. Like a gleam of sunlight between dark clouds comes the expression of deep conviction on the part of the ancient patriarch concerning the future. And what was a personal conviction with Job, Christ has demonstrated to be a certainty. God does care for His own.

BIBLE READINGS.
Job i. 1, 20-22; ii. 7-10; xiii. 15; xiv. 14, with xix. 25, 26; xxv. 1-16; xl. 1-4; xlii. 10-12; Ps. xxxvii. 1-5; Ezek. xiv. 12-14; Rom. viii. 18; i Cor. xiii. 9-12; xv. 20-22, 58; i Thm. ii. 3; James v. 7-11.

Five Pointers to Remember.
A traveling man, attracted to a Christian Endeavor society years ago because he saw an invitation to the meeting hanging in his hotel, advanced the following points as essential to successful effort: 1. Talk it up. 2. Work it up. 3. Live it up. 4. Pay it up. 5. Pray it up.

Mutual Benefit Column.

EDITED BY "AUNT MADGE."
Its Motto: "Helpful and Helpful."

The purpose of this column are succinctly stated in the title and motto—it is for the mutual benefit, and also to be helpful and helpful. Being for the common good, it is for the common use—a public servant, a purveyor of information and suggestion, a medium for the interchange of ideas. In this capacity it solicits communications, and its success depends largely on the support given it in this respect. Communications must be signed, but the name of writer will not be printed except by permission. Communications will be subject to approval or rejection by the editor of the column, but none will be rejected without good reason. Address all communications to

PASS IT ON.

By Rev. Henry Burton, M. A.

Have you had a kindness shown?

Pass it on!

'Twas not given for thee alone,

Pass it on!

Let it travel down the years,

Let it wipe another's tears.

'Till in heaven the deed appears—

Pass it on!

Did you hear the loving word?

Pass it on!

Like the singing of a bird?

Pass it on!

Let its music live and grow;

Let it cheer another's woe;

You have passed what others sow—

Pass it on!

'Twas the sunshine of a smile—

Pass it on!

Staying but a little while?

Pass it on!

April beam, the little thing,

Still it wakes the flowers of spring—

Makes the silent birds to sing—

Pass it on!

Have you found the heavenly light?

Pass it on!

Souls are groping in the night,

Daylight gone!

Hold thy lighted lamp on high,

Be a star in some one's sky,

He may live who else would die—

Pass it on!

Be not selfish in thy greed,

Pass it on!

Look upon thy brother's need,

Pass it on!

Live for self, you live in vain;

Live for Christ, you live again;

Live for Him, with Him you reign—

Pass it on!

Dear M. B. Friends:

Greetings to all, and thanks for the poem, which is one whose text we can all apply. We hope to see you at our reunion, and will soon make definite plans for it.

GARDINER, July 21, 1911.

Dear Aunt Madge:

I came across a little poem that is quite old; I thought it was nice for the M. B. column if not too long.

Where is the next reunion to be? I don't remember seeing anything about it. Would love to meet with you. With love to all.

M. P. L.

Dear Aunt Madge and the Column:

Yes, I'm a "Yankee," and though I've hardly time even to read the column, I'm going to write a few lines anyway, for when Aunt Madge needs to "take heart" then we need to "get busy" in the interest of our "Mutual Benefit," however busy we may be in other directions.

For myself, I have been hurrying from one thing to another for many weeks, illness of my other half having caused my work to get behind, but some leisure in the days to come.

Just now I am trying to get time for taking my vacation in going after the berries in the wild flowers, the feathery ferns, the velvet moss, the trees, the hills and the clouds.

was good of you and the many others to take time in the busiest season to add your words of encouragement to the contributions I so much needed.

Dear Aunt Madge:

This warm weather makes me think my recipe for pudding will be acceptable to you and the readers of your column, for it is so quickly made.

EMERGENCY PUDDING—Into a basin put eight common crackers, rolled fine, a piece of butter, two-thirds of a cup of sugar, a pinch of salt, and three cups of boiling water. Let come to a boil and break in one egg, not beaten. Stir briskly and add one-half teaspoon vanilla.

I sometimes use this sauce on it:

LEMON SAUCE—Beat well one egg with one cup of sugar and a small piece of butter. Add the juice of one lemon.

This sauce is also very good for a cottage pudding.

D.

This quickly and easily-made pudding we shall try, and it is certainly fittingly named. Thanks for the recipe.

Dear Aunt Madge and Mutuals:

It has been more than six months since I have read an ELLSWORTH AMERICAN. I have been very ill of rheumatic fever, and for a while I am forced to live a lazy life.

Last year at just this time I was at Bar Harbor for two weeks, then went to Ellsworth intending to go to Bluehill the next day to call on Aunt Madge and Lyla. In Ellsworth I received a hasty summons home, so I did not get down that way again. For two years I was very busy with illness and hard work, and that is why I neglected to write for the column for so long.

This winter I sold out my house and all the furnishings after I got helpless with rheumatism, and when they packed up my personal effects all my post cards from the M. B.'s and addresses were lost, and I can't seem to remember yet very well. I know I owe a great many cards, and now that I am not able to work and have plenty of leisure time, I will try to send some in return.

I was much interested in M. B.'s letter. My sister sent me the paper, also some clippings from the column, and, by the way, she ought to become a Mutual. She is a constant reader and an admirer of many of the writers, especially Uncle Dudley and S. J. Y., and she often writes urging me to send in something. Now I will call on her to write us a long letter next week and sign it "Pete".

As soon as I feel a little better I am going to take a vacation trip, and will write you about it. Kind regards to all.

JOAN.

I had intended to write to Joan at her old address to learn why it had been so long since we heard from her. It must have been a trying season when you were ill so long. Your signature once more affixed to an M. B. letter was a great pleasure to

AUNT MADGE.

NORTH SEDGWICK.

John Thurston is loading a vessel with lumber for a cottage at Owl's Head.

Robert Friend, wife and son spent the week-end with George Allen and wife.

Lester French and son Walter, of Melrose, Mass., were in town over Sunday.

The six boys who have been at Camp Meserinko for two weeks, left for their homes Friday.

Rev. John R. Thurston and daughter Isabel, of Whitinsville, Mass., visited their cousins, John and Ella Thurston, at the old homestead last week.

Mrs. Mary Carter, who has been ill several weeks, is better. Her son Clarence sprained his wrist while in the blueberry pasture one day last week.

The ice-cream social at the grange hall Thursday evening was well patronized by summer people. The proceeds will be used to carry on the work at the cemetery.

Several post cards have been received from Mrs. Fred Cole, who is on her way to Port Moody, Vancouver, B. C., to visit her sister, Mrs. Cleaves Cole (born Miss Minnie Thurston) for her health. She reports a pleasant journey so far.

NORTH BROOKLIN.

W. A. Hale has rented his cottage at the shore to parties from Hartford, Conn.

Mrs. Lizzie Hill, of Vermont, visited friends and neighbors in this vicinity last week.

Mrs. Clara Cole has gone to Vancouver, B. C., for her health. Mrs. Cole has a sister there—Mrs. Cleaves Cole.

The storm last Friday night did considerable damage along this shore, smashing weirs and sending boats ashore. The small coasting schooner, Henry Chase, anchored at Seal Cove, dragged her anchors, drifted across and went ashore on Harriman's Point. She will be a total loss.

BLUEHILL.

Gay H. Hinckley, of Boston, is spending his vacation here.

Miss Edith Olds and her niece are guests of Mrs. M. K. Olds.

Rev. C. M. G. Harwood and wife are at their home here for a short visit.

Miss Mattie Mello, of Brookton, Mass., formerly of this town, is spending a few weeks here.

Mrs. Coburn Haskell and family, of Cleveland, O., are at "Shore Acres" for the remainder of the season. Mr. Haskell will join them later.

The concert and ball of the fire company will be held August 4. The following will take part in the concert: Mrs. L. Ward Peters, Mrs. Edmund J. Walsh, soloists; Miss Pearson, violin; Miss Gelbart, reader. The fire company orchestra will play for the ball.

The ladies of the Congregational sewing circle are busy making final preparations for their annual sale—this year a bazaar entitled "The Seven Ages of Woman", to be held at the town hall on the afternoon and evening of August 10. Articles suitable for all ages will be offered for sale; also home-made candies and preserves. Tea, ice-cream and cake will be served. Booth No. 1, "The Baby," will be in charge of Miss Fannie H. Stover; No. 2, "The Child," Mrs. J. W. Kane; No. 3, "The Schoolgirl," Mrs. O. T. Hinckley; No. 4, "The Debutante," Miss Emma Jean McHowell; No. 5, "The Bride," Mrs. F. E. McGouldrick; No. 6, "The Housekeeper," Mrs. David Curtis; No. 7, "The Grandmother," Miss Mary Ober.

THE TOY-MAKER'S DREAM.

The "Toy-maker's Dream," a fairy jingle, given on Thursday and Friday evenings by the young people for the benefit of the library, was a great success, and was enthusiastically received. To speak of all the good things would be to give the program in full; Miss Gelbart certainly has the power to charm the children into following out her ideas.

Helena Robertson and Sidney Kane, in their quaint Dutch costumes won the audience with their song, "Fritzie von Daren," and were recalled many times. The dancing by visiting friends, Estelle Silverstein and Dorothy Walsh, added much to the program.

The amount added to the treasury of the library will be about $60.

SOUTHWEST HARBOR.

Frank Gilley and wife are receiving congratulations on the arrival of a little daughter, born July 25.

Mr. Parker, a former superintendent at Hall Quarry has, with his wife and son, been at E. L. Higgins's for a week or two.

Rev. E. M. Cousins, of Old Town, spent a few days last week with his brother, O. W. Cousins, and as usual tried his rod at the trout brook.

Relatives of Mrs. George Gilley from Stonington have been treating her family and other invited guests to automobile rides the past week. The car will be left here while the owners visit Bar Harbor.

W. T. Holmes returned Sunday from the Bar Harbor hospital, and is safely recovering from a critical operation. Herbert Dixon, who obtained leave of absence from his firm, assisted his mother in the store while Mr. Holmes was absent.

The Methodist aid circle held its summer sale at Masonic hall Wednesday, July 26. The sales tables were all well patronized and "seeing the elephant" proved very amusing to the little folks and older ones as well. The evening entertainment was excellent. Miss Grace Coombs, of Bangor, delighted the audience with fine readings. Several numbers by home talent, solos by Miss Fernald and instrumental music made up a very enjoyable program. The finance committee is well satisfied with the results.

Eliaz Ginn, an elderly and respected citizen of this town, after a lingering illness, died at his home at Norwood's Cove last Thursday. Mr. Ginn had been confined to the house for several years, faithfully cared for by his wife, at times being able to get out in the yard, but after a fall and the dislocation of his hip some months since, he gradually failed, and his death, though not unexpected to his family, came as a sad surprise to many of his friends. The funeral services were held at the home Saturday. The only child, Mrs. Josie Meader, of Northeast Harbor, with husband and daughter, was with her father during his last days.

July 31. SPRAY.

ISLESFORD.

The annual fair will be held at the church Wednesday, Aug. 2.

Frank Crocker has had to give up work for a while on account of ill health. Burton Stanley has taken his place.

The annual miniature boat race given by N. I. Bowditch, of Framingham, Mass., which was postponed, will take place Monday, weather permitting.

Roscoe Kingsbury, of Bangor, visited his sister, Mrs. Edward H. Hadlock, Sunday. Mrs. Hadlock is spending the summer with Mrs. Lemont Spurling.

Dr. Sweet, of Springfield, Mass., who rented Walter Hadlock's cottage for the month of July, returned to his home Monday. Pres. Seelye, who has spent his summer vacation at the island several years, is to occupy the cottage through August.

Capt. Fred Hodgkins, of Lamoine, who was cruising among the islands, came into the harbor Thursday night in his sloop "Zaniel" and called on friends Friday morning. In the party were his father, Capt. Tilman Hodgkins, Miss Eunice Coggins and Miss Winifred Cushing, of Waltham, Mass.

Rev. G. H. Bottoms, of New York, gave an interesting talk to a large audience Sunday evening. Rev. Mr. French, of Hampden, spoke in the morning. The Sunday preceding, Rev. Hubert W. Wells, of Wilmington, Del., addressed a good-sized audience. Our summer visitors have been very kind to speak to us once during their vacation.

The severe storm which visited the coast Friday night was one of the worst ever known for this time of the year; in fact, it has been several winters since there has been a storm which did so much damage. The boats in this harbor felt the storm the least of any, but Southwest, Northeast and especially Seal Harbor, felt the full force of it, as several boats went ashore and some were a total wreck. The captain of the life-saving station gathered his crew of men and supplying substitutes started for the wreck at Seal Harbor, where it was learned a vessel had gone ashore by striking the ledge off Great Head.

Mr. and Mrs. Hill and daughter, of Needham, Mass., John Lynch and Miss Helen Lyons, of Boston, and William Burns and wife, of Atlantic, are guests of A. O. Gross and wife.

The annual "Akela" ball took place Saturday night, with music furnished by the Stonington quintet. Preparations were made for Friday night, but owing to the storm it was postponed. The hall was tastefully decorated with yacht flags and Yale banners. The townspeople greatly appreciate Gen. Bishop's kindness in giving these balls, and look forward to them as an event of each season.

July 31. REX.

WEST BROOKSVILLE.

Jerome F. Tapley has been confined to his home for several days with a severe cold.

C. Koy Tapley loaded 200 bushel of herring from his weir on a boat Sunday morning.

The ladies' circle of the Congregational church will hold its annual fair at the chapel Thursday, Aug. 10, afternoon and evening.

Friday night's gale blew down many trees in this neighborhood. A large elm, set out on the church grounds by the late Seth Blodgett fifty-seven years ago, blew down across the street, requiring five men to remove it from the roadway.

A pretty wedding took place at the Stevens home Thursday noon, when Miss Inez Adell, daughter of Capt. George A. and Phebe Wescott Stevens, was married to Horace A. Mills, by Rev. G. W. Palmer, of the Methodist church at North Brooksville. Only relatives were present. The young couple left on the boat Thursday for Boston, where they will reside.

Tribute to the Retiring Chief.

It was a distinguished gathering at Bangor last Thursday evening which met to pay a well-deserved tribute to a distinguished man—was the banquet given in honor of Lucillus A. Emery, the retiring chief-justice of the supreme judicial court of Maine.

With the exception of Judge Cornish, who is abroad, every justice of the court was present, including, of course, the newly-appointed chief, Judge Whitehouse. Ex-Senator Hale, a long-time partner of Judge Emery, Judge Clarence Hale, Henry C. Emery, the chief's son, ex-Gov. Cleaves, were there, and a long list of distinguished attorneys from all corners of the State.

From Hancock county were Col. H. E. Hamlin, Judge H. M. Hall, Representative John A. Peters, B. T. Sowle, D. E. Hurley, Ellsworth; L. B. Deasy, C. H. Wood, A. H. Lyman, John E. Bunker, of Bar Harbor; B. E. Tracy, of Winter Harbor; Raymond Fellows, T. H. Smith, of Bucksport.

Oscar F. Fellows, of Bucksport and Bangor, presided; made a brilliant speech himself, and then introduced the honored guest of the evening, who made a masterful address on "Beliefs and Ideals as Motives of Judicial Action". He told of the lights that had guided him during his twenty-eight years upon the bench; suggested desirable changes, paid tribute to his predecessors, complimented his contemporaries, and expressed his unbounded faith in the ability and integrity of his successor.

The new chief-justice's tribute was a production of the highest order—eloquent and elegant, highly complimentary to the retiring chief. His brilliant address was a masterpiece.

Then followed Senator Hale, who drew upon the memories of fifty-four years since his admission to the bar for remarks full of interest, reminiscence, pride in the past and hope for the future.

Judge Hale was another accomplished speaker, and he, in clean-cut words and well-rounded phrase told his appreciation of the retiring justice.

If ever the retiring chief had any doubt as to the esteem in which he is held by bench and bar, surely this event dispelled it. Without question he takes with him to private life the warmest love, the highest respect, the hope for a long-continued and undisturbed life from every member of the legal fraternity of Maine.

Baby Lobsters.
Millions of young lobsters have been released along the Maine coast this season. The State's boat Sheldrake alone has put out 46,000,000 between Owl's Head and the Canadian boundary, while the United States boat Gannett has distributed a number of millions east of the head.

In addition to the fry the Sheldrake has distributed 4,500 striped lobsters; that is the fish from which the eggs have been taken and artificially hatched. These were put out between April 17 and June 1. These fish were the ones secured by the boat in the cruises along the coast between Rockland and Eastport, last year, and were returned to the waters from which taken.

The season for the distribution of the lobster fry began on June 3, and closed on July 13. The distribution in Hancock county was as follows:

Moore's cove, Stonington, 2,000,000; Burnt Coat harbor, Swan's Island, 2,000,000; Islesford, Cranberry Isles, 2,500,000; Otter Creek, 250,000; Bass Harbor, 1,250,000; Frenchboro, Long Island, 250,000; Gray's cove, Eggemoggin reach, 1,000,000; Killings river, 3,000,000; Sorrento, 1,500,000; Prospect Harbor, 4,000,000; Dyer's bay, 750,000; Gouldsboro bay, 750,000; Sunset, 250,000; Little Deer Isle, 500,000; Winter Harbor, 250,000.

Hail Storm at Gouldsboro.
GOULDSBORO, Aug. 1 (special).—A terrific storm of rain and hail visited here about 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon. It was accompanied by much thunder and lightning.

The hail did a great deal of damage, cutting down tender plants and vegetable stalks as though with a knife. The hailstones lay on the ground in drifts like snow.

Many of the hailstones were an inch or more in diameter, and broke many windows. Seventy-two panes of glass were broken out of one house. A great deal of other damage was done.

Hardness of heart is a dreadful quality, but it is doubtful whether in the long run it works more damage than softness of head.

COUNTY GOSSIP.

The new Bar Harbor hospital will be formally dedicated Aug. 30.

W. H. Sherman has issued a new souvenir book of Bar Harbor, containing finely printed views of some of the beauty spots and handsome cottages of the famous resort.

The deputy sheriffs at Bar Harbor made a seizure Friday of liquors consigned to the Kebo Valley club. Heretofore the clubs here, whose membership was confined almost exclusively to the summer residents, have been undisturbed by the prohibitory law enforcement.

Mrs. John S. Kennedy has given to the Maine seacoast mission $5,000 which, with funds already available, will enable the society to build a missionary launch suitable for winter service. The present launch, the "Morning Star", is an excellent boat for summer service, but is not built for the severe weather encountered on the Maine coast in winter. Plans for the new launch are already in hand, and it is hoped to have her ready for service next winter.

This seems to be a summer of lightning and hail and wind. Electric storms of more than ordinary severity are frequent, while winds of tornado velocity have swept different sections, and hail-storms are getting common. Fortunately all these storms have travelled as usual in narrow paths, so that damage from each was confined to a few localities. Last Friday night's gale was more widespread, and great damage was done to shipping, small boats and weirs all along the coast, while inland many trees were blown down and great damage done to the fruit crop. One life was lost in a wreck at Great Head, Mt. Desert Island. Monday afternoon Gouldsboro was visited by a damaging hail-storm, seventy-two panes of glass being broken out of one house.

Correspondence.

"'Tis Pity 'Tian's True."

Boston, July 28, 1911.

To the Editor of The American:
As I have always been accustomed to believe anything published in THE AMERICAN, I have tried to accept at its face value the item which appears in your current issue regarding my election to the position of "Dean of Boston University" together with the interesting rumor of further future honors.

The only thing which interferes with my acceptance of this piece of news is that I know it is not true. Not only is it not the truth, but it is not even based on truth. There has been no recent election of a dean, except in the theological school, and there has been no change in the position which I have held for the past year.

The present dean of the college of liberal arts has occupied the post for some six years, and is so acceptable and popular that he will certainly hold the position as long as he may choose to do so. As to the presidency, the reference to me in that connection is almost grotesque. No one familiar with the demands of the position could seriously consider such an appointment. Boston university requires a much "bigger" man as its head, and has secured him in Dr. L. H. Murlin, who has recently been elected to the office, and who will be inaugurated in the early fall. I am glad to have an opportunity to work with Dr. Murlin in the capacity of men's secretary, a position of honor and responsibility for which I hope I am better fitted than I should be for either of the higher offices mentioned in your report.

I trust you will correct the erroneous statement in your next issue.

Yours sincerely,
EVERETT W. LOAN.

BUCKSPORT.

Joseph M. Bray has purchased the grocery business of J. E. Marks.

L. W. Fling, of Bristol, N. H., is visiting his daughter, Mrs. O. F. Fellows.

Miss Sarah Hancock, of Mt. Vernon, N. Y., is the guest of her aunt, Mrs. Sarah Collins.

William H. Genn, of New York, is spending his vacation with his mother, Mrs. Albert Genn.

Angus Googins has returned to New York after spending a few weeks with his mother, Mrs. F. B. Googins.

Dr. C. H. Butler, of Bangor, spent Sunday and Monday at the Wardwell, the guest of Percy R. Todd and wife.

Mrs. Mary Marriner, of New York, and Mrs. A. S. Sherman, of Burlington, Vt., have been visiting Frederick Marriner and wife at their summer home.

The heavy rain and wind of Friday night did considerable damage to trees and shrubbery. The smoke-stack of the Franklin street tannery was blown down causing a shut-down for a few days.

The death of Mrs. Alvira Glidden Grenby, wife of George Grenby, of Boston, occurred at her summer home in Prospect, Thursday evening, July 27. Mrs. Grenby was the daughter of the late Alonzo Glidden, of Prospect. The remains were taken to Boston Friday for interment.

Daniel F. Davis, for years a well-known resident of this town, and a veteran of the Civil war, died Monday, following several shocks of paralysis. He was sixty-five years old. Mr. Davis had been a resident of Bucksport nearly all his life. He was a brave soldier, giving an arm to his country, and served in Co. G of the famous First Maine heavy artillery. He was for years a constable and an efficient officer. He was prominent in G. A. R. circles, and was a past commander of James E. Hall post. He is survived by his wife and one daughter.

ELLSWORTH BOY SCOUTS.

Camping Trip to be Taken Some Time This Month.

The movement known as the Boy Scouts of America has been organized in Ellsworth by Rev. Edwin D. Kiser, who has been appointed a scoutmaster in the organization. The idea of the Boy Scouts is to initiate the boys into clean play and work, and by the adopting of the natural tendencies of the boy nature to bring them to a better idea of self.

The ranks of the Scouts are divided so that the different degrees of proficiency of the members can be noted, the first rank being that of the Tenderfoot, the next, Second-class Scout, and the last being that of the First-Class Scout. Besides the tests in various sports, tests of life-saving, first aid to the injured, scouting, observation of life in various forms, etc., are rewarded by prizes and various other honors. The local scouts have been organized into a forum which has its own secret work and will have a system of adoption that might be envied by some older lodges.

No doubt most of THE AMERICAN readers have heard something about the history of the movement. General Sir H. H. Baden-Powell, of England, was the organizer of the movement in England, and his prime object was to rescue the youth of England from the demoralizing life that is found among youths untrammelled by custom or care, and also to bring them to understand themselves and nature about them.

Ernest Thompson-Seton was also interested in the same problems, and with his own plans incorporated part of those used in England, and the Boy Scout movement in America is the result, with Mr. Seton as chief scout and President Taft as honorary president, and Col. Theodore Roosevelt as honorary vice-president. The idea has proven very popular, and is being adopted in many places throughout the country.

The local patrols will be taken out on a camping trip by the scoutmaster sometime during August, and the boys are looking forward to the trip with great anticipation. The suits for the local scouts have been ordered, and will be received shortly. A partial list of the boys who have joined is given below, while several who have not passed their tests and been elected to membership will be given later.

Kenneth Johnson, Carroll Grindall, Wendell Osgood, Carlton Royal, Harold Moore, Alvin Barron, Walter Barron, Carroll Johnson, Milton Barron, Marshall Johnson, Roy Drake, Sherman Jellison, Maynard Strout, Sewall Hotchins, Bayard Young, Willard Fortier, Harold Treworky, Edmund Chapman.

ELLSWORTH WATER.

Another Analysis by Director of State Laboratory of Hygiene.

Another analysis has been made of the Ellsworth water by H. D. Evans, director of the Maine laboratory of hygiene at Augusta. The analysis, the figures of which are for parts in 100,000, is as follows:

Date of collection, July 12, 1911; examination, July 14.
Appearance—Turbidity, 0; sediment, 0; color, 2.2.
Odor—Cold, none; hot, vegetable.
Residue on evaporation—Total, 3.36; loss on ignition, 1.60; fixed residue, 1.70.
Ammonia—Free, .0018; in solution, .0196.
Chlorine—.520.
Nitrogen—Nitrates, none; nitrites, none.
Oxygen consumed, 9.46.
Hardness—1.45.
Alkalinity—1.00.
Iron—.005.
Lead—None.
Colon bacillus—None.
Bacteria, per c. c.—250.

In a letter accompanying the analysis, Dr. Evans says:

The analysis of the summer sample of water from your public supply, sent to me on the 12th inst., shows this water to be in first-class condition. It is entirely free from all evidence of contact with sewerage wastes, whether chemical or bacterial. In spite of the long drought, the water is in almost exactly the same condition as it was a year ago. In its present condition the water would be considered a first-class one in every respect.

Drowned at Bar Harbor.

The schooner Tay, bound from St. John for Boston with lumber, went ashore at Great Head, while trying to make Bar Harbor early Saturday morning. J. B. Whippley, of St. John, cook, was drowned. The members of the crew succeeded in reaching shore.

NORTHEAST HARBOR.

Miss Ethel Wilson, of Boston, is visiting Mrs. Nathan Fennelly.

Mrs. A. L. Manchester spent a few days in Bangor last week.

G. W. Pepper and family are at their cottage for the remainder of the season.

W. W. Vaughn and family are at their cottage on Vaughn's point for the season.

Rev. Rush Rhees, D. D., president of Rochester university, will preach at Union church next Sunday.

Rev. Robert Codman, D. D., bishop of Maine, presided at St. Mary's-by-the-Sea Sunday morning.

Miss Ruth Harris, who has been the guest of Miss Rachel Manchester, has returned to her home.

Northeast Harbor defeated Somerville in a close and exciting game at the athletic field Saturday, the score being 6 to 4.

Daniel Ryan and his company presented "The Black Fox" at the Neighborhood house Friday evening. Next Thursday they will present "Her Husband's Friend". Peter Murray has cancelled his engagement here. The Yale Stock Co. will be the attraction Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of next week.

Aug. 1. J. F. D.

"I have sent you flowers every day and bought you chocolates twice a week for the past year and provided you with all the latest fiction. I have taken you to the theatre and supper after the performance, and we have always had a bonbon. I have done everything to anticipate your every wish. Money has been no object. Yet you refuse to marry me. Why?" "You are too extravagant."

A Fit of the Blues.

It is a hard saying, but "the blues" may generally be traced to one or both of two horrid qualities—greed and laziness. Nine times out of ten the low spirited person is suffering from auto-intoxication—from too much food taken into the body and too little attention paid to elimination or to proper exercise. The human mechanism can take care of only a certain amount of food. After that point has been passed it seems to turn sullen in its efforts to ignore what it cannot help, and, although it is a wonderfully conducted chemical laboratory up to the limit of its own needs, it is not at all amiable about working overtime. The result is that all superfluous products sent to it are permitted to lie round and become poisonous. This poison is promptly taken up by the blood and carried to all parts of the body, including the brain. The brain, which needs a plentiful supply of clean blood to enable it to do its thinking, is naturally indignant at finding poor and impure blood supplied to it, and, although not actually going on strike, it refuses to be either pleasant or reasonable.—Youth's Companion.

How They Did Hate Wagner.

Wagner's music was at one time violently opposed in England, and Ford Madox Hueffer, whose father was musical critic of the London Times, gives in his "Ancient Lights" some curious instances of the lengths to which the campaign was carried. "The compositions of Wagner were denounced as being atheistic, sexually immoral and tending to further socialism and the throwing of bombs. Wagnerites were threatened with assassination, and assaults between critics of the rival schools were things not unknown in the foyer of the opera. I have in my possession three letters from three different members of the public addressed to my father. The writers stated that unless Dr. Hueffer abstained from upholding the blasphemous music of the future—and in each case the writer used the word blasphemous—he would be respectively stabbed, ducked in a horsepond and beaten to death by hired roughs."

Wonder What Tennyson Said.

In his volume of reminiscences Professor E. B. Poulton writes of a visit to Boston, where he met several notables.

Holmes spoke of Emerson stamping his foot with rage when he could not remember a name. He mentioned the Corbett-Mitchell prizefight, which had just taken place, and said, "I own to a lurking sympathy with prizefighting, perhaps because I am so unfitted for the ring myself." He told Professor Poulton he would never repeat to any one what Tennyson said to him when he entered his house. William James pressed him to do so with the assurance, "There are no reporters here." But Dr. Holmes replied with emphasis: "I have said that I will never tell any one. It was not a thing that I should have supposed any man would say to a guest he had invited to his house."

Faithful to its Meat Pies.

In England one county still resists the encroachments of the sandwich. Cornwall will have none of it. There the party reigns supreme—that delectable compound of meat, onion and potato inclosed in a semicircle of rich brown crust. Pilots, fishermen, farm laborers and school children one and all carry their pasties. These range in size from a comparatively minute semicircle priced in confectioners' shops at twopence to gigantic combinations of meat and crust that no ordinary dish can hold. Even the tramp in Cornwall scorns "travelers' diet" of bread and cheese. He, too, seated by the roadside on a heap of stone, will be observed to draw from some recess in his tattered coat a substantial pasty.—London Globe.

First Masked Ball.

France is the universal parent of the ball as we understand it today. The first noted affair of this character was given at Amiens in 1385 to celebrate the marriage of Charles VI. to Isabella of Bavaria. In 1715 he had the opera was organized by the French government to popularize balls, and gradually they entered into the amusement of the general public. The first masked ball was given by the formidable Catherine de' Medici.

Keeping Cool.

Mrs. Peck—Henry, what would you do if burglars should break into our house some night?

Mr. Peck (valiantly)—Humph! I should beat perfectly cool, my dear.

And when, a few nights later, burglars did break in, Henry kept his promise—he hid in the icebox.—Lippincott's.

Versatile.

"They tell me your boy Josh is very versatile."

"He is," replied Farmer Cornstossel patiently. "I never saw anybody who could do so many fool things without repeating himself."—Washington Star.

Then He Lest Them.

A professor of Greek who was noted for self appreciation bought a dozen collars and marked the first one with his full name and the others simply "Ditto."—Everybody's.

OLD HOME WEEK.

will be a big "midway", or street fair, some forty spaces having been assigned. The (Antara Carnival Co., which filled an engagement here a few weeks ago, will be here with some of its best attractions. Prof. Littner will make his "alide for life" across Union river from the tower in Odd Fellows hall. Josh Harum will make things lively on the street. Prof. Mansur will give trapeze performances. Prof. Tirrill, of Boston, will make balloon ascensions from the Odd Fellows lot Wednesday, Thursday and Friday afternoons.

SUNDAY SERVICES.

The exercises of the week will open with a union service at Hancock hall Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Rev. Edwin D. Kizer, pastor of the Methodist church, will deliver the Old Home week sermon. Pastors of other local churches will assist in the service.

In the evening there will be another union service, with a short address by Chaplain D. H. Tribou, U. S. N., retired, and a sermon, "The American Home," by Rev. Albert J. Lord, of Meriden, Conn. At both these services there will be special music by the Ellsworth festival chorus.

MONDAY.

The excursion to Newbury Neck by schooner and tug will be the feature of Monday. The Old Home week orchestra will furnish music. At Newbury Neck there will be water sports, athletic games, and a baseball game between the "Muffs" and "Duffers".

TUESDAY.

Tuesday will be Old Home day. The exercises will be held at Hancock hall at 2:30 p. m. Mayor C. H. Leland will preside and deliver the address of welcome. There will be short addresses by Rev. Albert J. Lord, E. W. Lord, Col. Frederick Hale and others. There will be special music by the chorus and the "Ode to Ellsworth" written by E. W. Lord, will be sung.

The Old Home reception and ball will take place in the evening. Those in the receiving line will be Mayor Leland and wife, Hon. John A. Peters and wife, John O. Whitney and wife, Charles A. Hancock and wife, Col. C. C. Burrill and wife, C. L. Morang and wife, Fullerton Merrill and wife.

WEDNESDAY.

Wednesday will be carnival day, and will be given over to merry-making, with athletic events. The plans to make this a hand field-day had to be abandoned, the committee being unable to make satisfactory transportation arrangements.

In the evening the three-act pastoral drama, "Dora," will be presented by the following cast:

Farmer Allen.....Fred E. Cooke
William Allen.....Roy C. Haines
Lake Bloomfield.....Harry L. Crabtree
Jem Blunt.....Roger Higgins

A dance will follow the play. Tickets for the play, concert and excursion will go on sale at the W. R. Parker Clothing Co.'s store to-morrow morning at 9 o'clock.

THURSDAY.

This will be Veteran firemen's day. There will be a parade in the forenoon, in which the position of honor will be accorded to the "Watch City", of Waltham, Mass., formerly Union 2, of Ellsworth. The Ellsworth firemen have extended a special invitation to Old Town and Calais firemen to be their guests Thursday.

After dinner, the match hose reel race between Bangor and Brewer teams will take place on Water street. This will be followed by firemen's sports.

The hand-tub contest will close the afternoon. In this the three local tubs will be lined up against their old-time rival, Union 2, and something of the old-time spirit will be aroused. Michael Shea will be captain of Dirigo engine, M. J. Drumme will line up his pet, Old Hunneman, and John O. Whitney will bring down his husky crew from the Falls to pump Ticonic, while the visiting captains from Waltham will pump Union 2, with L. H. Cushman and John E. Doyle at the pipe.

The following rally call to friends of old Union 2 has been issued:

All members and friends of Union 2 engine and hose company, formerly an active part of the Ellsworth fire department, and which was disbanded and ceased to exist on April 7, 1890, are requested to meet at the engine house on Franklin street, Monday evening, Aug. 7, at 7:30 o'clock, to take such actions as will render the most efficient aid to their old engine, now known as the "Watch City", of Waltham, Mass., which will be present and take part in the firemen's day contest Thursday, Aug. 10.

F. S. CALL, Ex-Clerk.
F. S. LORD, Ex-Foreman.

In connection with the hand-tub contest, the following letter is of interest:

4 Gramercy Park,
New York City, July 26, 1911.

Mr. Michael J. Drumme,
DEAR SIR: The late John D. Hopkins, with whom I spent many happy boyhood hours and whose memory I greatly cherish, was at one time captain—I think the first—of Hunneman Engine Co., No. 1.

Well do I recall the many times he has told me of the prowess of Hunneman, in his younger days, and in particular of that occasion when in a contest with the Bangor tub Tiger 6, Hunneman played ten feet over the top of a flag-pole, the truck of which Tiger's stream had failed to reach.

I have always had a warm spot in my heart for the old tub, and it is with pleasure that I tender to you, her present captain, my humble services to pump on the brakes of Hunneman at the coming play-out during "Old Home Week", at which time I hope her stream will carry further than all the others, not excepting even that of the much-heralded "Watch City", formerly "Union No. 2", which I understand is to be present for the contest.

Respectfully yours,
FREDERICK J. BROWN.

Thursday will close with a firemen's ball.

FRIDAY.

Friday will be Union River day. There will be water sports, including canoe and swimming races.

The reunion of former pupils of Miss

Elizabeth Tree will take place at Hancock hall in the afternoon.

In the evening there will be an illuminated parade, for which several floats are already being prepared. No invitation is necessary to enter this parade, and the committee in charge hopes that many floats, automobiles and private teams will participate.

The concert will take place Friday evening. The soloists will be Mrs. Mabel Monaghan Swan, of Boston, Miss Bertha Giles, of New York, soprano; Albert C. Orcutt, of Dorchester, Mass., tenor; Miss Margaret Bragdon, of Brockton, Mass., pianist; and James Marcy, of Bar Harbor, cellist, will play.

SATURDAY.

Saturday will be Governor's day. Governor Plaisted will arrive at 11:15 o'clock, and be taken about the city in an automobile. He will then be driven to "The Pines", where he will be entertained at luncheon, together with the members of the Merchants' association and a few invited guests, by Senator Hale.

At 2 o'clock he will make a short speech at the library lawn, followed by an informal reception.

The reunion and lawn party of the Ellsworth high school alumni association will take place at 4 o'clock on the high school grounds.

In the evening the governor's ball will be held at Hancock hall, while the Ellsworth high school alumni association will hold its annual reunion and banquet, followed by cards and dancing at Odd Fellows hall.

Rally for Prohibition.

Last evening Hancock hall was comfortably filled with an audience gathered to listen to arguments for the retention of prohibition in the constitution.

Rev. P. A. A. Killam called the meeting to order, and briefly stated the object of the meeting and emphasized its importance. After prayer by Rev. E. D. Kizer, Mr. Killam introduced Dr. R. L. Grindle, of Mt. Desert, as chairman of the evening.

Dr. Grindle, in a brief but meaty address, gave his reasons for advocating prohibition, reasons which forty years of observation as a practicing physician and thirty-eight years of experience as a political campaigner, satisfied him were sound. He then introduced Judge Pollock, of the supreme court of North Dakota, who made the principal address of the evening.

The speaker stated the various methods which had been tried in his state and elsewhere for controlling or regulating the liquor traffic, compared results, which had long ago convinced him that prohibition was the best because it reduced to a minimum the evils which invariably accompany and are a necessary part of the liquor traffic.

His state of North Dakota had tried both systems; he had experienced both, and in his judgment the prohibitory system was by far the better. And North Dakota's experience was the experience of every state.

He ridiculed the slogan "prohibition doesn't prohibit", of course it doesn't; the most violent partizan of prohibition does not claim that it does. But that the prohibitory method of dealing with the liquor traffic reduces the evil to a minimum cannot be truthfully disputed.

Judge Pollock said that in his judgment the Maine law was weak in that it did not provide sufficiently severe penalties for liquor-selling, and illustrated the effect of severe penalties as applied by the courts in his state.

The judge was intently listened to throughout.

POSTAL SAVINGS BANK.

Ellsworth has been Designated as a

Depository.
The postoffice at Ellsworth has been designated as a postal savings bank depository, and the business will be started August 25.

Under this system of savings accounts may be opened and deposits made by any person of the age of ten years or over in his or her own name, by a married woman in her own name free from any interference or control by her husband. No person shall have more than one account at any one time. No person shall open an account at any postoffice who is not a patron of that office. No account can be opened for less than $1, and fractions of that amount will not be accepted for deposit.

No person shall be permitted to deposit more than $100 in any one calendar month, nor to have a total balance to his credit at any one time of more than $500, exclusive of accumulated interest. Deposits are evidenced by postal savings certificates issued in fixed denominations of $1, $2, $5, $10, $20, $50 and $100, and interest is allowed on all deposits at the rate 2 per cent. per annum, computed on each savings certificate separately. No interest is paid on money that remains on deposit for a fraction of a year only. Deposits bear interest from the first day of the month next following that in which deposited.

A depositor will be permitted to exchange the whole or any part of his deposits in sums of $20, $40, $60, $80, $100 or multiples of $100, up to and including $500 into United States registered or coupon bonds bearing interest at the rate of 2½ per cent. per annum, payable semi-annually, and redeemable at the pleasure of the United States after one year from date of issue, both principal and interest payable twenty years from such date in United States gold coin. Such exchange may be made under date of January 1 and July 1 of each year, provided such bonds are then available. A depositor desiring to convert his savings deposits into bonds on January 1 and July 1 of any year must make application at least fifteen days before either of the dates.

Savings deposits converted into bonds are not counted as a part of the maximum of $500 allowed one depositor, and there is no limitation on the amount of available postal savings bonds that may finally be acquired by a depositor.

Postal savings bonds are exempt from all taxes or duties of the United States, as well as from taxation in any form by or under state, municipal or local authority.

ELLSWORTH FALLS.

JORDAN-LAFFIN.

A pretty wedding took place Tuesday evening, Aug. 1, when Mary E., daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George L. Jordan, became the wife of Arno P. Laffin, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Laffin, of Ellsworth. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Henry W. Conley, at the home of the bride's parents, at 8 o'clock.

The bride and groom were attended by Sadie A. Laffin, sister of the groom, and Philip Jordan, brother of the bride. The bride was becomingly dressed in white silk.

There were present only the immediate relatives, those from out of town being Luther Harmon and Miss Sadie Laffin, of Belfast; Philip Jordan and wife, of Detroit, Mich., and Earl Jordan, of Dexter.

After the ceremony, delicious refreshments were served by Misses Susie Smith and Alice Clough, while the Ellsworth Falls band furnished music. Many useful and pretty presents were given the young couple.

Mrs. Laffin has been for four years a successful teacher in the schools of Ellsworth, and is highly esteemed, as is also the groom, who is a machinist in the Ellsworth Foundry & Machine Works. They are spent on the way of their new life by a host of admiring friends.

Utterly Wretched
Nervous Prostration Long Endured
Before Remedy was Found.

Miss Minerva Reminger, Upper Bern, Pa., writes: "For several years I had nervous prostration, and was utterly wretched. I lived on bread and beef tea because my stomach would not retain anything else. I took many remedies, but obtained no relief until I took Hood's Sarsaparilla, when I began to gain at once. Am now cured."

Pure, rich blood makes good, strong nerves, and this is why Hood's Sarsaparilla, which purifies and enriches the blood, cures so many nervous diseases. Get it today in usual liquid form or chocolate tablets called Sarsatabs.

COUNTY NEWS.

SOUTH PENOBSCOT.

Miss Delia Leach broke her right forearm while out in the pasture carrying last Thursday.

Mrs. Julia Thomas died at her home here Friday, July 28, after an illness of several months. She leaves one daughter and one grandson, with whom she had lived for many years.

Albert P. and George Leach, who have been in business here together several years, dissolved partnership last week. A. P. Leach, who has been ill nearly five months, has sold his interest in the business to George. He intends upon recovering his health, to erect a building for the postoffice, which has been in the store, and also carry on an insurance business. He will also transact all the town clerk business there. The many friends of Mr. Leach hope that, being freed from business cares, he will now rapidly improve in health. George Leach and wife will continue to do business under the firm name of N. M. Leach & Co. The rumor that Mr. Leach intended to close out his stock is unfounded. The business will be continued as before.

The community was shocked Friday by the sudden death of William Bridges. He felt as well as usual Thursday, and worked in the hayfield. Friday noon he ate heartily at dinner, and acute indigestion set in, affecting his heart. He died before a physician could reach him. "Uncle William," as he was familiarly known, was one of those rare characters of our New England towns whom to know was to love. He was large-hearted, optimistic, always ready for a joke, never falling with a helping hand. He will be especially missed by the other "boys" of his age with whom he was always talking and joking. The best part of Mr. Bridges' life was spent at sea. He had been around the globe several trips and into many foreign ports. By nature an observing man, he had a large fund to draw from, and could always tell some interesting fact of his travels. He was an honored and respected member of the F. and A. M., a large delegation from which attended the funeral, Rev. Mr. Carter officiating. He was in his sixty-second year. July 29. Nemo.

All Wrong.

The Mistake is Made by Many Ellsworth Citizens.

Don't mistake the cause of backache.

To be cured you must know the cause.

It is wrong to imagine relief is cure.

Backache is kidney ache.

You must cure the kidneys.

A resident of this vicinity shows you how.

Frank E. Fernald, Ellsworth Falls, Me., says: "I am so strong an advocate of Doan's Kidney Pills that I never miss an opportunity to recommend them. I have never learned of an instance where they have failed to give satisfaction. For two or three years I was bothered by attacks of backache. The misery varied at times from a dull ache to sharp twinges, and often I could scarcely stoop. If I sat down it was hard for me to get up, and I was in doubt as to what to do for the trouble. I had read a great deal about Doan's Kidney Pills, and as they were said to be a sure cure for backache, I finally decided to give them a trial. I procured a supply at Moore's Drug Store, and the use of one box effected a cure."
